Join the Crew!

As one of the crew

Our Friends work at close quarters with staff, trustees and other volunteers to help fund, build and ensure the successful future of Moat Brae, Scotland's first Centre for Children's Literature and Storytelling.

Once afloat, Moat Brae will offer opportunities for young and old to fuel their imaginations and develop creative talents, including:

- An ever-changing range of activities, workshops and exhibitions celebrating children's literature, story making and storytelling.
- A garden with activity trails inspired by Neverland, engaging children in the story of Peter Pan, with space to play in and explore the natural world.
- Specialist exhibitions celebrating the stories of Moat Brae - as a Georgian house designed by Walter Newall, as a private hospital, and as the playground for the budding, creative talents of J M Barrie.

Help steer the ship

As one of the Moat Brae's Friends you can help us achieve this:

- Spread the word - tell your friends about our amazing adventure.
- Follow us - share our news through social media.
- Organise a fundraiser - be creative and hold an event.
- Join our volunteers - help in the garden, at open days and at special events.

Your Share of the Treasure

In return, our Friends get:

- Grateful thanks from the Trust.
- Regular updates and a twice-yearly newsletter.
- Advance notice of events and merchandise.
- Advance bookings for events organised by the Friends of Moat Brae.
- Invitation to a twice-yearly Friends outing.
- Choice of Friends name depending on your favourite Peter Pan character.
- Choice of Bounty - a pin badge or window sticker to welcome you.
- A birthday greetings card for pirates under the age of 12.

...and even more exciting offers as the Centre develops.
